

Dear Friend,

I have included in this envelope many things to encourage you. But if you do not know the One who inspired these words and thoughts I have not completed what I have set out to do. My desire is to help you to know the Healer for yourself, to lead you to Him. He is the author of life, strength, encouragement, hope, healing and the answer to every question you may have is in Him.

If you have never prayed a prayer to invite Jesus to come and take residence in your heart, please take the time to pray this prayer out loud. Even if you have prayed this prayer before, do it again, as a declaration of your faith. Nothing can take your life because you have already given your life to your Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Precious Jesus,

I am a sinner, and because of that I need a savior. I believe you came because You loved me and You gave Your life as a sacrifice to pay for every sin I have ever done or will ever do. I receive your forgiveness and your love. Thank you Lord for the cleansing I have received! My life is now in you.

Hallelujah!! The bible says the angels are rejoicing in heaven. Picture that!! Call somebody and tell them what you have done. Jesus said if we confess Him before men (or women) He will also confess us before His Father who is in heaven. Do that! Read His Word for yourself and find a church that teaches the Word. It is an exciting life to know and believe that the One who hung the stars rejoices over you with singing. Now that's a picture!!

God Bless You,

Jan
